

ANUSHREE

Training and mentoring a team of over 50 youth leaders, and managing community and facility-level project interventions, Anushree Banerjee believes in the strength of community ideas and applies her sound understanding of the field to inform project strategies. With operations impacted by the pandemic, she was quick to pivot project interventions – from developing local guidelines to nurturing local initiatives to support young women’s SRH, she demonstrated agility and responsiveness to the emerging community needs.

Assam and Madhya Pradesh, India

Photo: Ipas Development Foundation

Improving Care Seeking Behaviour of Young Women for Sexual and Reproductive Health in Assam and Madhya Pradesh

Grand Challenges Canada
Grands Défis Canada

Project Purpose

Improve SRH knowledge of rural, young women and girls and empower them to access essential reproductive health care they need in order to lead healthy and more fulfilling lives.

Designed to Achieve

Support decision making of rural, young women, strengthen availability of youth-responsive SRH services in the public sector, facilitate young women’s SRH access

201,000

Young women and girls reached with SRH information, and 116,000 received sensitive, youth-friendly SRH services and counselling

83

Service providers trained to offer non-judgmental, youth-friendly SRH services

SRH training and communication material assets created and adopted by state governments

