

MARGARET BOMBEKI

“
There was a time when I had twins twenty years ago. As a young mother, I found it difficult to breastfeed the twins, and did not have access to information like what I have learned. Most importantly I'm happy to share knowledge that makes mothers confident that their children are receiving adequate nourishment.
”

Shiwang'andu District,
Zambia

A RETIRED PRIMARY TEACHER who volunteered as a Community Health Worker (CHW) for Kalalatekwe Rural Health Center. As a trained volunteer Margaret relies on both her MIYCN knowledge as well as her personal experience to counsel women on nutrition and related health issues.

The Southern Africa Nutrition Initiative (SANI)

Project Purpose

The reduction of maternal and child mortality in targeted regions.

Designed to Achieve

Improved nutrition in women of reproductive age (15-49) and children under 5 years in Malawi, Mozambique and Zambia.

60,726

Households participated in Care Group meetings and received visits from CHWs.

% of men and women using improved drinking water sources

48% Zambia
(150% of project target);
92% Malawi
(108% of project target);
66% Mozambique
(150% of project target).

% of children exclusively breastfed

85% Zambia
(110% of project target);
86% Malawi
(115% of project target);
82% Mozambique
(114% of project target).

Visit Care.ca to learn more.

A CanWaCH Impact Story: for more stories visit CanWaCH.ca/ImpactStories